Privacy Statement

Prelude

Cryptsus via the website cryptsus[.nl][.com] does not process privacy-sensitive information or personal data from its cookies. Cryptsus consider handling personal data of the highest importance. As a result, personal data are processed carefully and securely.

We comply with the obligations as set out in the General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR). That means among others:

- We clearly state with what purpose we process personal data. We do that in this Privacy Statement;
- We limit the collection of personal data to the personal data needed for legitimate purposes;
- We will ask you for explicit consent to process your personal data when explicit consent is required. Given consent can be withdrawn at all times, but not retroactively;
- We take the appropriate level of security measures to protect your personal data and demand the same from parties processing personal data on our request;
- We respect your right to access, rectification and erasure of your personal data on your request.
- Cryptsus acts as processor of the personal data that are processed via cryptsus.com. In this Privacy Statement we wish to set out which personal data we collect and use with what purpose. We advise you to read it carefully.

Use of personal data

As you use our professional services you will leave certain data with us. These could be personal data. We keep and use only personal data that you've provided directly, or when it's clear they were left for processing by us when provided. We could use the following types of data for the purposes set out in this privacy statement:

- Full name

E-mail contact

When you send us an email, the data that you provide will be kept as long as the nature of the content of your email requires for the complete response and handling of it. We shall not transfer the personal data to any third party unless it is necessary for the execution of the agreement with us, or if it is legally obliged, and only under a data processing agreement.

Google Analytics statistics services and Disqus commenting services

Cryptsus has a Data Processing Amendment to the Google Analytics Agreement. Cryptsus.com uses Google Analytics cookies to track you through our online environment. Google Analytics has been made AVG (Algemene Verordening Gevensbescherming) compliant with the "Autoriteit persoonsgegevens Handleiding privacy handleiding voor Google Analytics" published on the 15th of August 2018. The last octet of the IP-addresses are anonymized within the g-tag script. Cryptsus disabled sharing of information. Cryptsus does not use other (Google) services in combination with Google Analytics cookies.

Cryptsus also uses Disqus as a third party services for commenting on our blog posts. These SaaS services can be located outside of the EU. They are compliant to the applicable privacy laws regarding transfer of data to third parties and bound by a data processing agreement with Cryptsus.

Cookies are files with small amount of data which may include an anonymous unique identifier. Google and Disqus sent cookies to your browser and stored on your device. Tracking technologies also used are beacons, tags, and scripts to collect and track information and to improve and analyze our Service. You can instruct your browser to refuse all cookies or to indicate when a cookie is being sent.

Security

We shall make sure appropriate security measures are in place to mitigate the risk of abuse and unauthorized access to personal data.

Storage period

Personal data provided by you will be stored in your account until the account is terminated or removed, unless the data need to be stored longer due to legal requirements. For example, payment data for tax authority purposes.

Job applications

When you apply for a job at Cryptsus, the personal data provided by you will be kept for as long as needed to fully complete the application process. Thereafter your personal data will only be stored longer if you've explicitly given your consent.
